Bretnor, 1615.

A Newe Almanacke and Prognostication, for the Yeare of our Lord God 1615.

Being the thirde after Leap yeare.

Fitted to serue for the latitude and meridian of the honourable City of London, and may well serue all the South parts of Great-Britaine.

By Thomas Bretnor professour of the Mathematicks & Student in Physicke in Cowlane.

London.

Para mouere Deus, tollere sua potest.

Cum priuilegio.

To the courteous Reader.

I [illegible] decease of my kinde [illegible] I [illegible] somewhat altered my course of Writing, and [illegible] which I haue vndertaken (Courteous Reader) [illegible] owne ease, as that I might more fitly [illegible] for your [illegible] mans pocket. And whereas M. Hop- [illegible] inuented many Instruments seruing many v- [illegible] by his Bookes diuulged may appear, yet that which he ter- meth his (Queen Mathematica) in mine opinion) is worthy greatest applause, as being an Instrument far more seruiceable and fit then any extant for the speedy resolution & innodation of any Arith- meticall, Geometricall or Astronomicall conclusion whatsoeuer. The practise handling and vse whereof, although it pleased God he lined not fully to accomplish it, yet its due perfection is com- mitted to the hands of such a workeman, as it needes not blush hereafter to walke abroad in the sun-shine. Howbeit if any louer of Art shall not by the liuely instructions and demonstrations in the said booke, or any other contained, be able to [illegible] wished desire, Sine viua præceptoris voce, let him (if he please) repaire to my house situate in Cow lane where he shall find me ready & willing at all conuenient times to giue him full satisfaction of a- ny doubt or demand: where also all such as are desirous to be in- structed in all or any the Arts and Sciences vnder mentioned may vpon like termes in short time haue such easie instruction, that by their owne study and proper endeuors they may afterwards easily attaine the full period and scope of their intendments. This taske haue I taken vpon me louing Countrimen, after the heathen Phi- losophers example, considering that Non nobis solum nati sumus sed partem patria partem parentes &c. vendicant. For whereas I had long since deuoted my studies to a far more beneficiall practise, (Nam dat Galenus opes) yet seeing the harueſt is great, and the la- bourers few, in this kind I am bolde to thrust my sickle into the Corne, with resolution to spend some houres more in this con- templatiue and rauishing Theorie: so that howsoeuer there be ma- ny by-standers better workmen then my self, and more far worthy of applaude: yet (I notwithstanding my [illegible]

brunt of enuy euen censure for the loue I beare to [illegible]
the studies of this age, in lieu whereof, I (I may [illegible]
a requitall affection, I will study to continue [illegible] ship.

To purge, to bath or bleed, is not debar'd,
So that the Golden meane be wel obseru'd:

So that extreames heerein thou euer shun.

Certaine Physicall Directions.

The authority of Classicall Authors together with daily experience, haue induced me to beleeue and affirme, that as the Diagnosticke and Prognosticke habite of Phisicke, is neither by a my excrement, pulse, or symptome whatsoeuer, so truly and perspicuously acquired and knowne, as by Astronomicall obseruation; so the Therapeuticke (though neuer so learnedly and theoretically fetcht from Hipocrates, Galen, Auicen, & others) yet its true practise and seasonable administration can by no meanes be so rationally or safely performed, as by Astrological direction. For howsoeuer an ignorant Phisition may (by chance) as the benefit of his patients nature serues to performe a radicall cure, yet doubtlesse he, whosoeuer goeth about to effect the same, neglecting the Heauens Influence, doth seldome or neuer attaine the true end and scope of his endeauour: for questionlesse those diseases (vpon the least indisposition or distemperature that is) either breake out into worse termes, or become recidiual. How heathenish & nigherefore are some Diuine-Heauenly-Horse-leaches, who (contrary to the verdict of all true Phisitions) doe ignorantly and with vnwasht hands, tamper & meddle with so noble a creature as Man, whose life (so highly prized of God and Angels) ought with such care be rendered and preserued, that (me thinks) he should be accounted and hunted with the greatest learning and experience in the world that shall dare vndertake so worthy a taske. And herein (according to Quercetan Dieter. Polyhist. pag. 125) is the knowledge of Astrology principally required: for he affirmeth, Astrologia cognitionem adeò necessariã esse Medico, vt eius ignarus Medici nomen sibi vsurpare indignus. But because, non cuiuis licet adire Corinthum, I haue (as heretofore in this yeares Almanacke) set downe the ordinary Aspects of the Moone with the rest of the Planets: and in this Prognostication noted their place in the Heauens for euery 5 day of the moneth, together with their diurnal affects vnto this earthly orbe; so that this only Almanacke, with helpe of a Domifying-Table, may very well serue in stead of an Ephemeris for this yeare. If therefore thou intendst to phlebotomize, or administer any purgative Phisicke, let it be done in such dayes as I haue noted in this Prognostication for good and fortunate, and signed in the sixth columne of my Almanacke with ☌ and ☍ aspects obseruing these Promises:

That { The season of the yeare be respected.

Of the Eclipſes happening this yeare 1615.

ALthough we in England ſhall ſuffer no Eclipſe this yeare, yet will our neighbouring other the Moone deprive the Inhabitants about Calecut, Bantam and Goa, & other South-eaſterlings of the ſun his full ſhining rayes: for upon our 19 day of March about their high noon, will that glorious Orbe the Sun be ouer-ſpred (well-neere) with the darke and groſſe body of the Moone, ſo that about $\frac{11}{12}$ parts of his light ſhall be taken quite away from them. This falling out in the firſt decade of Aries, may (according to Proclus) bere well portend, Crebros armorum & exercituum motus, ſeditiones, controuerſias & intemperem aeris ad ſiccitatem poſſibilium vergentis, &c. But it regard it nothing concernes vs to frame the effects to the profite of idle Caſtery dreamers, who are like to ſeeke their fortune therein.

Vpon the 12 of September likewiſe will our Antipodians behold the Sunne with an totall darkeneſſe for a little while their owne day light: the Inhabitants of the Ilands of Salamón, Nombré de Ieſus, Manilas de la Aguada, &c. for the groſſe and opacous body of the Moone directly interpoſing them and the Sunne, which happening in the very last degree of Virgo, doth threaten slaughter, death or desolation to the most learned and ingenuous people amongst them: and must needs be so much the more fearefull, by how much the cause of this and all other Eclipses are unknowne unto them.

to

Touching the Earths-eclipse which happned in the first decade of ♈, or ♎, choose you whether, upon the 23 of September 1614. and midst of the day, Proclus affirmeth, that Acrem corrumpit, pestem suscitat, annonam flagellat, caramq; reddit, which is further confirmed both by the opposition of Saturne to the Luminaries at the same instant, as also by the Lunare Eclipse which fell out the 14 of Aprill before, which (portending Horrenda tonitrua, fulmina & terræ motum) must needs adde fewell to that fire, & the rather because both their effects happen about one and the same period of time.

Of the foure quarters of the yeare, and first of Winter.

This Biennal season, commonly called Winter, and usually taken for the first quarter of our Astronomicall yeare, tooke its beginning the 11 of December last: for then (according to old dotage) did the Sunn enter the first scruple of the cold and melancholicke signe Capricorne, or rather according to verity this earthy planet entring the first minute of Cancer, and furthest deflected from the Sunnes perpendicular rates, did then receive least portion of Sun-shine, and greatest quantitie of shadow; and consequently caused shortest daves and longest nights amongst us. The beginning of this quarter is like to prove nipping and cold, the middle raw and drilling, the end open and Spring like. And so of necessitie the diseases haunting the same must be of cold and moist nature, such as are Lienteries, Dissenteries, Colicall and Illiacall passions, Coughes, Convulsions, Relicks of putred Fevers, &c.

Of the Spring.

This vernall quarter taketh its beginning ensomarly when the Sunne enters into the first point of the Æquidiurnal signe Aries, or rather Aetheutically when our Grand-dame-Ops boweth to a right angle with the Sun, beholding him face to face, & so acquireth equall light and darknesse to all his parts; which either-way considered, commeth to passe this yeare the 10 of March, 3 quarters of an houre past eight in the morning, the first degree of Scorpio ascending. The disposition of which time considered and compared with the Opposition premensuall, and Conjunction post-mentional, may seeme to give argument of a sickly and tedious Revolution: for the accidentall life and politi-

all on of moſt of the planets in the 6. & 12 Celeſtiall manſions at each period, may very well portend veration, ſickneſſe, & impriſonment to many perſons extraordinarily, eſpecially to ſuch as haue ♋ or ♈ aſcending at their geneſtures, or dwell in Cities or Countries ſubiect to thoſe Conſtellations. Comet and Cattell (through the vnconſtionable ingroſſing and foreſtalling of them) are like to prone very deare, abortion & lethal accidents are threatned to many women with childe, and poore Scholers and Mercurialiſts are like to be thruſt vnto the walles.

The great Commander of this Vniuerſe,
At whoſe rebuke the Heauens are all amaz'd,
Can eaſily infringe what we rehearſe,
If at our vgly ſinnes we ſtood agaz'd:
For nothing can his wrath ſo ſoone appeaſe,
As true deuotion ioyn'd with laud and praiſe.

Of Summer.

THis Æſtiual ſeaſon doth vſually commence at ſuch time as this earthy ſtarre hath volued herſelfe to the larthelt limits of her Southerne inclination, & ſo conſequently acquired greateſt portion of Sunne ſhine, and leaſt ſcantlet of ſhadow: Or, the Sun, according to appearance, made furtheſt perambulation Northward; which (either way conſtrued) commeth to paſſe this yeare the 11 of June at one a clock after mid-night, for then doth the earth preciſely enter the firſt minute of the Tropicall ſigne Capricorne.

The beginning and latter end of this quarter are like to proue ſomething windie & moiſt: the middle hot and ſoultry. And the diſeaſes like to peiter the ſame, will be Feuers of ſtrange nature and euent, Diſenteries, Gonorrhæa paſſio, and ſuch others.

Of Autumne or Haruеſt.

WHen this habitable Stearre is returned to the laſt Center, or middle of her Annuall peregrination, beholding the Sun at equall angles: Or, when the Sun (after vſuall dotage) hath retired himſelfe to the firſt ſcruple of the Equinoctiall ſigne Libra: then doth this Autumnall quarter commonly take its beginning; which either way obſerued, falleth out this yeare the 13 of September at 3 a clocke and 37 minuts in the after-noone. The late & condition hereof is like to proue more open and windy then vſuall: for, for many daſhing ſhowers & ſtormy gales about Octobers entrance, are preſignified. Diſeaſes alſo of Epidemicall nature, with many others common to this ſeaſon, are threatned. & many garboiles & incumbrances to forreigners are portended. The ſucceſſe whereof we leaue to the bigheſt kings pleaſure.

Here followeth a perfect Table of the vnequall, (or Planetary-houre.

WE gape for Gudgions, listen after newes,
Are ner'e content with fate whate'er it be,
We blame the times, and seldom dare accuse,
When wicked men are euils best of we see:
What sinne, what vice, hath reigned heretofore,
That is not riser now a greater deale more?

Come are the times that Chaucer earst foretold,
Wherein Ambition beares away the bell,
The lofty looker must not be controld,
'Tis policie the poorer sort to quell.
He's counted wise that can his neighbour tangle,
And hee's the man that now a dayes can wrangle.

Most men respect not what they say or doe,
Their fist is close, their conscience wide and large,
If by some quirke in law they can't vndoe,
A what they care not how their soule they charge.
Religion's now a cloake to couer sinne,
O would to God these dayes had neuer been!

Soli & vni trino Deo honor & gloria.

FINIS.
